Dear Tim,

An acquaintance of mine has just called me to say that he has recently come back from Europe, where he showed Albert Hofmann a specimen of Copley's frozen LSD. Hofmann tested it & found that the liquid is only 60% LSD, but he could not in the time at his disposal say what the remaining 40% consisted of.

Nothing too good if one may judge by what happened to the two local users of the stuff that I happen to know of - Dr Dunn, now in Norwalk, Perry Bevin, now a suicide. I don't know + you brought some of this material from R and C. It so for God's sake don't use it - or use it only after very careful testing (not told my informant that LSD in liquid form cannot stand up to exposure to the air - & I understand that the frozen stuff is not in airtight ampoules. This alone ~~means~~ would be disturbing. The 40% dilution with God knows what is very frame indeed. So please be careful. It would be disastrous if someone be came ill physically or mentally deranged as a result of ingesting this material while staying at
